

Michael Waite

Educational Psychologist

What is important to me:

- My family (my wife, Jen, and my daughter, Hattie)
- My job (listening to children and young people's opinions)
- Food! Friday pizza nights, BBQs and eating out
- Watching films, television programmes and football
- My garden
- Summer holidays

What people like about me:

- I am kind
- I am friendly
- I am gentle
- I am positive
- I am helpful

What I would like to get better at:

- Reading more books in my spare time
- Finding time for exercise
- Writing my work faster
- Socialising more with friends

My job

I meet with teachers and parents/carers and work with children and young people, like you, to find out what they are good at and what they sometimes may find difficult. I am keen to find out what children and young people think by asking for their thoughts and opinions.

I use this information to work with the people that know a child or young person best to find solutions to help and changes they would like.

My job is called an 'Educational Psychologist', but please feel free to call me Mike.

What we might do together

When I come to meet you, I will introduce myself and I will tell you what we might do together.

This might be a chat about what is important to you, what you like, do not like and what might help. We might also play some games, drawings, activities, questionnaires or some tests.

What happens if you do not want to work with me?

If you do not want to meet with me or do any work together, you do not have to. We will only meet or do as much as you would like to. After we have worked together, I will ask you what you thought about working with me.

If you have any questions, you can write them down or ask someone to write them down for you and I will try my best to answer them when we meet.

You can also contact me on michael@waitepsychology.co.uk

I look forward to meeting you!

Mike
